Washington State Board of Accountancy

How to Meet the Experience Requirements for Initial Licensure

I. General Instructions

The Board's goals with establishing competency requirements are to define the experience requirement in a manner that is applicable to candidates' obtaining their experience in a variety of fields and organizations, to provide a thorough guide to the licensed CPA to support a candidate during the apprenticeship period and in assessing whether a candidate's experience supports the attainment of the competencies, to meet statutory requirements for determining competency requirements for applicants for licensure, and to support public protection through clearly defined requirements for an apprenticeship period prior to licensure.

The experience requirements are as follows:

- A. The candidate must obtain experience supporting the attainment of the following seven competencies:
 - 1. Understanding the rules of professional conduct as contained in chapter 4-25 WAC;
 - 2. Assessing the achievement of an entity's* objectives (*the term entity includes: programs, projects, divisions, or an entire organization);
 - 3. Preparing documents that contain sufficient data to support analysis and conclusions;
 - 4. Understanding transaction streams and information systems;
 - 5. Assessing risk and designing appropriate procedures;
 - 6. Making decisions, solving problems, and thinking critically in the context of analysis; and
 - 7. Communicating scope of work, findings and conclusions effectively.
- B. The candidate's experience must be for a minimum of 12 months, consisting of at least 2,000 hours, through the use of accounting, issuing reports on financial statements, management advisory, financial advisory, tax, tax advisory or consulting skills. The 2,000 hours are work hours; i.e., the hours are not limited to billable hours. Nor are they limited to hours for which the candidate received a wage or salary.
- C. The experience must have been obtained within the eight years immediately preceding the date your application for licensure is filed with the Board. Except, if the candidate was a certificateholder on June 30, 2001 and submits their license application to the Board prior to June 30, 2004, the candidate is not limited to the eight-year limitation.
- D. A licensed CPA (or CPAs) must verify that the candidate's experience supported the attainment of the competencies. The verifying CPA does not have to be the candidate's day-to-day work supervisor. However, the CPA must be qualified to verify the candidate's experience and complete Section 1 of the Experience Affidavit.
- E. The candidate must fully complete Section 2 of the Experience Affidavit.
- F. Note: The Board will confirm the verifying CPA's license status. If the verifying CPA is licensed in another jurisdiction the process of the application may be delayed depending upon the timeliness of the other jurisdiction's response to our request for information.

II. Instructions to CPAs

The CPA verifies that the candidate has had experience supporting the attainment of the competencies by completing Section 1 of the Experience Affidavit. Note: The CPA does not verify that the candidate has attained the competencies. The burden of proof of the validity of the Experience Affidavit is on the candidate. The CPA verifying a candidate's experience must meet the Board's qualification. To be qualified to verify a candidate's experience the CPA must be a currently licensed CPA in one of the 54 US jurisdictions and have held a license to practice public accounting for a minimum of 5 years (the 5 years do not have to be continuous) prior to verifying the candidate's experience. The verifying CPA is not required to directly supervise the day-to-day work of the candidate nor is the CPA required to work for the same organization as the candidate. If a candidate's work experience is in a specialized service area, the CPA should have experience in the specialized service area. A licensed CPA intending to verify a candidate's experience is required to notify the candidate of any changes in their status as a licensee. The CPA should be able to support the candidate in locating opportunities where the candidate may obtain experience supporting the attainment of the competencies. A matrix showing the associations between the competencies and professional standards is contained in Exhibit 1 to these instructions.

III. Instructions to Candidates

The candidate must complete Section 2(a), 2(b) and 2(c) of the Experience Affidavit. It is the candidate's responsibility to establish a relationship with a qualified CPA. If the CPA verifying the candidate's experience does not meet the Board's qualifications, the Board will not accept the CPA's verification. Therefore, candidates need to confirm the CPA's qualifications prior to entering into a relationship. This can be done by contacting the Board of Accountancy where the CPA is licensed and confirming the CPA holds a valid license to practice public accounting and has been licensed for a minimum of five years. The status of a Washington CPA can be confirmed by calling the Board's office at 360/753-2586. The web site for the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy, www.nasba.org, lists the contact numbers for other accountancy boards.

IV. Suggested (Not Required) Relationship and Work Plan

Ideally the CPA will mentor, monitor, support and guide the candidate toward the attainment of the competencies through actual experience. The Board recognizes the CPA may oversee a candidate's experience even though the CPA may not be the candidate's employer-supervisor. The CPA has the primary role of evaluating whether the candidate has obtained experience meeting the Board's requirements. The Board recommends the candidate and the CPA establish a work plan, which includes a review of the candidate's CPE requirements, for attaining the competencies. The Board recommends the CPA utilize the competencies listed in Section 2(c) of the Experience Affidavit as a guide for developing a work plan or program for the candidate, for counseling and/or interim progress meetings, identifying CPE requirements, and discussions, and as a tool for communicating the CPA's decisions regarding the candidate's progress, areas of concern, and expectations for future focus to the candidate. The Board recommends frequent meetings directly between the candidate and the CPA to provide an opportunity for the candidate to seek the CPA's counsel and an opportunity for the CPA to provide interim evaluations of the candidate's experience. If the CPA and the candidate discontinue their relationship prior to the candidate meeting the Board's experience requirements, it is preferable that the CPA provide the candidate with an interim evaluation of the candidate's experience to date and be available to discuss the candidate's experience with CPAs that may, at a later date, agree to enter into a relationship with the candidate. However, the CPA is not required by Board rule to provide such an evaluation. The candidate will need to establish a second relationship to complete the experience requirement.

V. Disputes between the Candidate and the CPA

If the candidate disagrees with the CPA's decisions regarding verifying the candidate's experience, the Qualifications Committee has a resolution process established to review and conclude on such disagreements. The candidate must request such a resolution on the form provided by the Board and provide all requested information.

VI. Board Reviews and Audits of Experience Affidavits

The Board's Qualifications Committee and Board staff review all Experience Affidavits. The Qualifications Committee may require both the candidate and the verifying CPA to explain the representations made on the Experience Affidavit. To facilitate the processing of applications, both verifying CPAs and candidates are required to respond to Board staff and Qualifications Committee requests for information within 20 days of the date such an inquiry is posted in the U.S. mail. As part of the evaluation of the candidate's application the Qualifications Committee may require information relating to the candidate's fulfillment of the experience requirement.

All experience applications are subject to audit and the candidate must maintain supporting information for a minimum of twelve months after the date the candidate's experience is approved by the Board. Supporting information could include such information as: employment records, confirmations of work experience from former supervisors or peer employees, performance appraisals, discussion notes from meetings with the verifying CPA, interview documents, work plans, CPE records, or any other documents that could be used to support the validity of the representations made on the Experience Affidavit. The burden of proof of the validity of the Experience Affidavit is on the candidate.

The Board's Qualifications Committee audits compliance with these requirements on a random and/or select basis. Both the verifying CPA and the candidate are required to respond to Board staff and Qualifications Committee requests for information within 20 days of the date such an inquiry is posted in the U.S. mail. Both the verifying CPA and the candidate may be required to meet with Board staff or a Qualifications Committee representative and provide information as requested.
